

Position: Financial Analyst

Period: Full-Time

Job Description:

VAAS Professionals is seeking a Financial Analyst to provide operational and management support services to the National Institutes of Health's (NIH) Intramural Research Program (IRP). IRP is the largest biomedical and clinical research program in the United States and its mission is to provide scientific progress in the multiple areas of biomedical and clinical study, of which include efforts to:

- Combat Drug Resistance
- Stimulate Neuroscience Research
- Advance Computational and Structural Biology
- Unlock the Potential of RNA Biology and Therapeutics

Job Duties:

The Financial Analyst will provide on-site support of the following tasks:

- Provide support for financial and budget analyses
- Provide analytical and data mining research for life of project
- Provide monthly status reports detailing progress project
- Identify areas of opportunity/trends and threats
- Develop forecast models to communicate data
- Provide targeted areas of risk management

Qualified candidates should meet the following requirements:

- Must be an experienced professional with a BS/BA degree in finance or related field
- At least 1 year of financial analyst experience
- Excellent interpersonal/communication skill (verbal and written)
- Ability to prioritize and a strong attention to detail
- Ability to work in a team environment
- Proficiency in Excel

How to apply: Email your resume to vaas@vaasprofessionals.com

**We do not offer relocation - Location: Bethesda, Maryland